QUICK HOUSE PARTY IDEAS

AMAZING RACE PARTY

LET'S GLOW CRAZY

CANCER GETS THE BOOT PARTY

MOM PROM

FAMILY GAME NIGHT

PANCAKES AND PAJAMAS

FRIENDS PARTY-THE ONE WHERE THEY...

STAYCATION PARTY

HUSBAND for HIRE

THE NOT SO NEWLYWED PARTY

These are just a few wacky suggestions, but feel free to create your own theme! Use this as a time to reconnect, laugh, and share your passion for Little Pink!

AMAZING RACE PARTY

This party works great if you have a group of competitive friends! Encourage teams to dress alike to really get into the fun! Create a series of riddles and challenges that they have to complete. The competition can take place at your house or around town!

 Have an entry fee for each team. At each stop, they can have the choice to donate $10 to bypass the challenge. Little Pink conducts a yearly Amazing Race fundraiser and has loads of ideas! make sure you have a bragging rights trophy!

GIVE CANCER THE BOOT PARTY

A western themed party complete with chili, line dancing, country music, a 3 legged race, pin the tail on the donkey and more! Or let your friends all bring chili for a cook-off!

 One of the most amazing aspects of this party is the Friend-raising that is done prior to the event! Provide your guests or a small group of your ride or die friends with an actual BOOT a month prior to the party for them to collect donations at their place of work or from their network. Present a prize the night of the actual party for the top fundraiser! Have your own boot out at the party to ask for additional donations from guests.

FAMILY GAME NIGHT

Game Nights are great fun for the WHOLE family or you can do a Couples game night! Either way, laughter will fill the room! Traditional Board games work or you can do a series of Minute to Win it Challenges!

 You can charge a set amount for game night if you desire. You can raise money during the night by setting a certain amount ($100 or $200) for very specific challenges for some of your craziest guests! For example, if the group raises $200, Crazy Johnny will jump into the pool in the freezing cold or Silly Sam will shave his head!

FRIENDS...THE ONE WHERE THEY...

The one where they all had birthdays! Celebrate all of the birthdays for the whole year! Invite guests to submit Tik-Tok or Triller videos for birthdays celebrated.

 Encourage guests to donate in honor of the special birthday individuals rather than bringing individual gifts. Have everyone bring dollars to vote for the best Tik Tok video challenge and give prize to winners!

HUSBAND AUCTION

We all wish that our husbands would finish something on the honey-do list! This is a great way to get the men involved. Have them think up one Husband for Hire item (clean gutters, mow yard for a month, etc.) Also have them come up with a Bromance event that they would want to do (fishing, golfing, etc.)

You can conduct this just like a regular auction! During the party, with each husband will take center stage for his Husband for Hire item and his Bromance item! The bidding for this can be hilarious!

LET'S GLOW CRAZY

A family friendly party! The family that Glows Together, Grows Together! Invite friends to dress in their best neon and do a Neon Glow Dance Party and/or Karaoke!

Put jars out with each family name on them and guests vote with their dollars for who is the BRIGHTEST Family. The key is that you can't vote for yourself!

MOM PROM

Ladies Night Out!- time to get jazzed up in a dress you already have! Spin the tunes, dance, and just have some fun! Play games that include Never Have I Ever Prom Date Edition! You could include Friend-Raising for a month leading up to the event and the top fundraiser would be named Prom Queen! Little Pink can easily create donation pages up for you!

Who will be the Prom Queen? Have friends raise money the month leading up to the event through online fundraising pages. The top fundraiser will be named the Prom Queen! Since they are not buying anything new to wear, you could also ask them to donate a portion of what they would have spent for a prom dress to the cause.

HOUSE PARTY DETAIL

PANCAKES AND PAJAMAS

This is a great Saturday morning fundraiser! Whip up some pancakes and invite over the neighbors for breakfast and to learn about Little Pink all while hanging out in your Pajamas!

Charge or take donations for breakfast. This is also a great fundraiser to do more than once with different groups of friends!

STAYCATION PARTY

This theme has lots of different avenues that you can take! How about a party where your guests:

- Bring a dish from a different country
- Have an at home spa day for the women in your life
- Make scrapbooks from their most recent trip
- Have a Sand Castle Building contest in the backyard
- Create a shopping swap where everyone brings clothes to sell
- Watch a movie out in the backyard using a projector

The ideas are endless!

Tailor your Staycation party to be something that your friends and family would enjoy! Depending on the event, fundraising techniques will vary..

THE NOT SO NEWLYWED GAME

Come up with funny questions and let your couple friends do the rest. Each couple starts with a set amount of money that they put into the pot (typically $50). If there are 10 questions, for each right answer they get $5 back. They can bet as much as they like with what they have earned for the bonus question.

This is an easy game because couples know exactly what their donation is ahead of time. Obviously, at the end of the game, you can feel free to ask if anyone wants to donate their winnings (which is just a portion of their original investment)

SCHOOL FUNDRAISERS

7

A school fundraiser is a great way to share the mission and vision of Little Pink while modeling how kids can participate and make a difference through their service!

QUICK SCHOOL FUNDRAISING IDEAS

BUILDING A HOUSE FOR HOPE

DUCT TAPE THE PRINCIPAL

GLOW IN THE DARK WHIFFLE BALL

ROCK PAPER SCISSORS TOURNAMENT

STOP THE BABY SHARK

These are just a few wacky suggestions, but feel free to create your own theme! Pump up the school spirit!

BUILDING A HOUSE OF HOPE

This is a great fundraiser that kids K-12 can all participate in and "see" the end result of their fundraising! Each student gets a white Chinese take out box. Students can decorate boxes (great to do as an art craft in lower grades). They are responsible for taking their box home and collecting spare change over a set period of time. Once all the boxes are collected a group of upper-grade students build a house out of the chinese boxes in the cafeteria or lobby

 Students collect spare change in their Chinese box. On average, students will collect $2-$15. Multiply that by the number in your student body and it is quite impactful.

DUCT TAPE THE PRINCIPAL

Students love to see the principal, who can appear remote or even stern, has a fun side and is willing to do something extremely silly. The duct-taping can be the fundraiser itself, with groups charging a small fee, say $1 per strip of tape, for students to participate. The principal promises to be duct-taped to the wall if the school reaches a certain fundraising goal.

 Get your local hardware store to donate the duct tape and this becomes a 100% raised fundraiser! Students donate to get a piece of tape to tape the principal to the wall!

GLOW IN THE DARK WHIFFLE BALL

This is a great "sporting" fundraiser that works for co-ed groups! Glow sticks fit perfectly into whiffle balls- it is that simple! Have students get pledges prior to the game using a pledge card. Parents or friends might pledge $5 for every run scored or $10 if their child's team wins the game!

 Getting pledges prior to the game is key! You can also sell concessions!

ROCK, PAPER, SCISSORS TOURNAMENT

It is the classic game of rock, paper, scissors- just tournament style! There are multiple variations on how to conduct this tournament. Each person is required to pay a $1 entry fee. You might have each "loser" pay a set amount of $1 or $2 when they are eliminated. The champion wins a great donated prize (example- high school winner receives free limo for prom; middle school winner receives free headphones; the elementary winner receives free toy)

Another variation is to play by class ahead of time (using a similar fundraising structure) and then have it be a bracket challenge that is played in front of the whole school.

You can also organize a teacher's only bracket! The possibilities are endless and this fundraiser can be very profitable!

You need a very organized person for this fundraiser! Conduct a final bracket at night after most have been eliminated and it will allow for speakers to talk about the cause and also causes the parents to attend and can count for possible donations.

STOP THE BABY SHARK

This is a fundraiser designed for Middle or High Schoolers. The Baby Shark song is enough to drive us all crazy- or to donate! Play the song repeatedly over the PA system in between classes and during breaks. Students can pay to have it stop! Set a goal of a certain amount and once that amount is reached, the song stops. You can do this with any song that you think will drive students crazy!

Setting a goal at the beginning of this fundraiser and announcing progress towards stopping the shark will keep this moving quickly! You can have classes compete and the class that donates the most wins a pizza party or some other fun incentive!

WORK FUNDRAISERS

Office FUNdraisers help create community in the workplace!

QUICK WORK FUNDRAISING IDEAS

A SPELLING BEE FOR CHEATERS

AXE OF KINDNESS

RAFFLE A DAY OFF

TAPPY HOUR

OFFICE OLYMPICS

Employees usually come up with very creative ideas!

A SPELLING BEE FOR CHEATERS

It’s team-based spelling, which means you work as a team to earn points for the title of Ultimate Spellers. And the more your team fundraises, the more you can cheat. Teams will be able to “buy” cheats at the event with the money raised prior. Cheats include letter hints or buying the word for full points. You can also buy the right to make another team spell their word backwards! This is a great event for team building as well!

 Online Frundraising is done prior to the event with pages created by Little Pink! You can also sell "dheats" during the event!

AXE OF KINDNESS

Axe throwing doesn't take long which makes it the perfect lunchtime (plus a little extra) fundraiser. Work with a local axe throwing company and conduct a bracket tournament with your employees. Maybe get the boss or company to throw in a great prize like tickets to a sporting event or an extra vacation day for the winner!

 Work with the Axe Company for a fundraising discount- especially coming during the day when they are not typically busy! Charge a set amount for the event. Also, do a 50/50 pot where half of the money goes to the winner in a separate bulls eye contest!

RAFFLE A DAY OFF

Super simple fundraiser! Give everyone 1 free entry- this will make your HR department happy. Then sell tickets for extra chances. A typical strategy for additional tickets is:
$10- 2 more entries
$20- 10 more entries
$50- 100 more entries

 Hying this up in the office is a lot of fun! Have the person that wins send pics on their day off to help it become an office ritual that people look forward to every year!

TAPPY HOUR

Partner with a local craft brewery or restaurant close to your workplace. Tappy Hours are great places to network across various businesses, so reach out to your friends and colleagues from other businesses to get them involved as well. Tappy Hour begins when the bell is rung (by YOU!) and a certain percentage of all food and drink is donated back to your cause! This is a great win-win for brewery and restaurants to get new customers in their doors. Tappy Hour is done when the bell rings again (by YOU, probably just a little tipsier). You can add 50/50 raffles or auction items during your Tappy Hour to add to your fundraising total!

The more businesses that participate in Tappy Hour, the better it is for your Tappy Hour vendor partner. Typically, for just an hour, businesses are willing to give 50% of the cost as a donation. Your guests will continue to eat and drink past Tappy Hour, giving the establishment a chance to recoup their donation. Remember to give them lots of press!

OFFICE OLYMPICS

The Office Olympics are a team event, so divide employees into teams. To help team members identify each other, give employees a bandana in their team color. Trying to complete all six events in one day can be very time consuming, so we recommend spreading the games out across a week by hosting one game a day and two events on Friday. Examples of events:

- Desk Chair Races through an obstacle course
- ID Card Toss into Hula Hoops of various point values
- Olympic Wacky Trivia
- Rubber Band Archery at colorful target on whiteboard
- Finger Skating - a one finger typing contest using a website like typingtest.com
- Memory Slalom - teams will be shown a quick series of images and they have 2 minutes to write down everything that they remember.

Have a trophy and an awards ceremony! Let the Games begin!

This is a great team building activity - period! At the beginning of the Olympics, discuss the cause that the teams are playing for during the week. Ask them to donate to enter as a team. The number of teams or players should determine your entry fee.

Houses of

DIGITAL HAPPY HOUR

Invite your friends and family to a digital happy hour with a purpose! Teach them something simple, like how to make a mojito. Enjoy the time together. Share your Little Pink Story and experience with them.

This is truly a fundraiser that has a "soft ask" at the end of it or throughout the happy hour. Tell them what you want them to do and give them the information to donate. You can also encourage them to donate online during the Happy Hour so that you can celebrate what the group has donated!

WALL OF LOVE

Fundraise with Love on GivingGrid.com for Little Pink: The Wall of Love (WOL) is both simple and wonderful. People "share the love" and post a heart to your WOL with their donation. Donors can also:

- Include a special message.
- Donate in honor or memory of a loved one
- Wish someone happy birthday or anniversary
- Simply tell someone you love them...

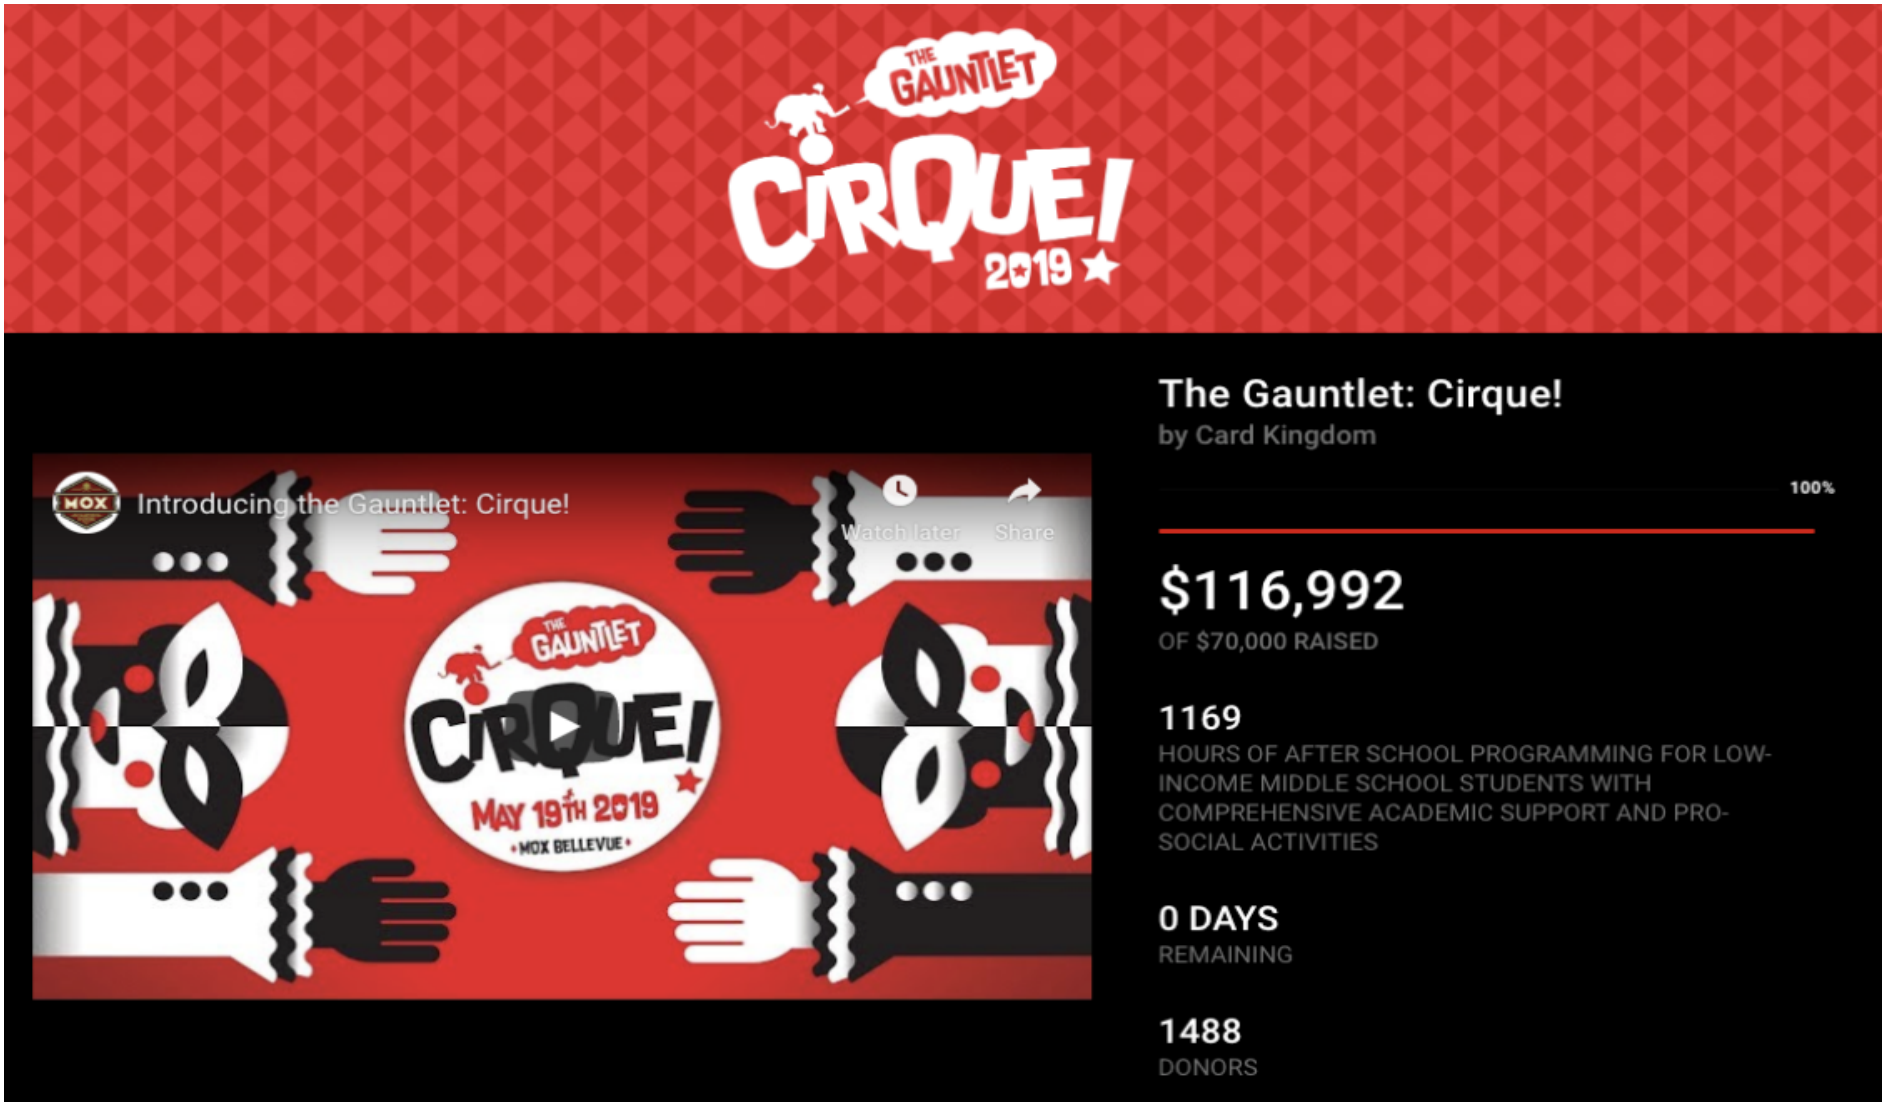

Donors can even send their heart as an eCard!

When they purchase their Wall of Love Hearts they will be making a donation to Little Pink! it is that simple once you set up your wall!

GAMES TOURNAMENT

Create a series of challenges that test team skills, endurance, and aptitude with a games tournament. Teams can register to compete in different challenges with the top scorers winning a prize! Get local businesses involved for prize sponsorships, and make it a public, fun event that everyone can come and watch.

Gamers raise money while competing in the tournament!

FACEBOOK FUNDRAISER

Facebook is where your friends and supporters live, so why not set up a Facebook Fundraiser! Share your story through a video and ask them to donate. Set a meaningful goal and tie it back to the Little Pink experience.

Supporters will donate directly on Facebook, eliminating any of the work on your part!

WELCOME TO MY STORE

Are you a graphic designer and have a great idea for a cool T-Shirt? Maybe you have a funny slogan or an inside joke that would be so great on merchandise. *Use of LPHOH logo must be pre-approved.

You will have created an online store for a good cause ! You can add other merchandise to raise funds as you get new ideas!

QUICK HEALTH & WELLNESS FUNDRAISING IDEAS

POKER WALK

JOURNALING CLASS

MASSAGE ENVY

YOGA, YOGA, OR YOGA

These are just a few suggestions, but feel free to create your own theme!

Little Pink
Houses of

POKER WALK

Give participants a map of a walking route and have playing cards at each of the 5 stops. At the end of the walk, the best hand according to Poker rules wins half the pot. Sweeten the deal with additional prizes for the lowest hand or mark select cards with a secret symbol for a healthy prize. At stop 5, you can also charge a set amount to let them switch out one card to try to make their hand better.

Charge an entry fee for all walkers. Add some healthy snacks and water at each station.

JOURNALING EVENT

- Journaling through Cancer
- Music and Lyric Journaling

Charge for the class. Provide coffee and snacks. Find a good journaling instructor to guide the group through the process.

MASSAGE ENVY

Connect with a couple of different massage therapists and secure multiple donated massages. Organize an online auction (Little Pink can help with that) and auction of the massages! This is a great way to raise funds quickly without any additional party planning.

Their funds will be donated in the online auction portal when they win!

WE WILL NOT WAFFLE

This is a great fundraiser for people that like to explore their faith. Rooted in a program or the day that delves into the topic of being indecisive (about relationships, works, self-worth, medical treatment or connection with God), and provides a support network as well as a shared community for good discussions. Oh, and you get to eat waffles!

Get a local celebrity (TV News Anchor, Radio DJ, Mayor, etc.) to be on the judges panel to get extra excitement about the event! Admission and cupcake sales will give you all the revenue you need to be successful!

YOGA, YOGA, YOGA

There are many different yoga classes and experiences that can easily transform into a great fundraiser!

MISCELLANEOUS FUNDRAISERS

QUICK MISCELLANEOUS FUNDRAISING IDEAS

POTTY ON THE LAWN

COMMUNITY YARD SALE

CLICKS FOR A CAUSE

CUPCAKE WARS

WACKY WAGER

Endless possibilities in this category!
If you can dream it, you can do it!

POTTY ON THE LAWN

The colorful commode mysteriously circulating around area lawns is guaranteed to get a laugh from anyone who has seen or heard of it. But the toilet is serious business. Basically, you drop the potty on a lawn, and the homeowner has to pay to have it removed. $10 for removal, $20 to move it to a friend's house, and $30 for the above + the promise that it won't come back to them. Get a group of teens involved to be your "potty movers"!

You can paint a couple of pottys so that you have more than one in circulation at a time. Focus on great Potty signage so that people understand the cause! This also works great as a Flamingo Flocking!

COMMUNITY YARD SALE

This fundraiser is a great way for community members to get rid of their "treasures". Partner with a local church or retail space or in the cul de sac so that you have lots of space! Have signage about the cause and extra donation jars for the people who might now find something to buy but are still interested in donating.

Make it clear to all participants where the money for the yard sale will be going and who it will serve! By doing it as a group, you can have one central checkout station.

CLICKS FOR A CAUSE

Partner with a local photographer to do a mini sessions that lasts 10-15 minutes. Include some free images and then a set rate for other images for the photographer. The participants can then buy extra images from the photogrpaher if they like.

Charge for the mini sessions.

CUPCAKE WARS

Calling all Amateur Bakers! Each baker is asked to submit three dozen cupcakes, which are judged according to taste, design and presentation. After the judging is completed, one dozen of the winning cupcakes in each category is put up for auction. The remaining two dozen cupcakes are available for individual sale along with all remaining cupcakes. Spectators attending Cupcake Wars may purchase a box of six cupcakes for $15 and a dozen for $25. After the auction, people who purchased the boxes may then select their favorites from the remaining cupcakes. Admission to Cupcake Wars is $5 per person

 Get a local celebrity (TV News Anchor, Radio DJ, Mayor, etc.) to be on the judges panel to get extra excitement about the event! Admission and cupcake sales will give you all the revenue you need to be successful!

WACKY WAGER

People will donate money to see a bit of harmless craziness released into an otherwise dull world. Also, this type of crowdfunding works best in more intimate circles, such as at the workplace or within the local community. However, once you get some traction from your donors, they will pay heavy money for the privilege of designating a co-worker or a neighbor to shave half of his mustache, take a polar bear plunge, skiing in a tutu, dying your hair pink, jumping out of a plane, etc.

 This type of fundraising will involve an online donation page (which Little Pink can set up) for people to donate. Set a monetary goal, that once reached, the wacky wager will be completed.

Hosting a Fundraiser

8 Tips for a Successful Event

30

1. Set a Goal

Knowing your fundraising goal is your first step to success. You will plan differently—and invite differently—if your goal is to raise $500 vs. $5,000. And if your house party is simply a “friend-raising” event, know this, too.

2. Understanding Hosting Duties

A good house party does not require a large or fancy home. It’s more important to have a host who is enthusiastic about your work and mission and is willing to roll up their sleeves when it comes to invitations and follow up. A good host is:

- Passionate about your mission
- Willing to open up their home
- Eager to invite their own friends and colleagues to the party
- Prepared to pay for food and drinks
- Willing to make calls before the party to confirm attendance
- Able to make all of the attendees feel welcome and comfortable
- Ready to make a donation of their own during the party
- Committed to writing thank-you notes after the event is over

3. Know that Not Everyone Will Say Yes

Not everyone you invite will come to your event! Even if they all wanted to, there will be conflicts that prevent them from doing so. Plan to invite three to four times as many people as you want to show up.

4. Not All Surprises are Good Surprises

Rather than surprise party guests with a request for donations, make clear on the invitation that this is a fundraising event. Language such as "donations gratefully accepted" or "please remember your checkbook!" will work for this purpose.

5. Make a Plan for the Evening

Your plan does not need to be long; it should contain just enough information to make everyone involved feel comfortable. At minimum, your plan should answer the following questions:

- Who is purchasing the food and drinks and when will this happen?
- What is the timeline for all activities, including time of event, time of presentation, time of the Ask?
- Who will make the Ask?
- Will there be donation envelopes? (Hint: Yes)
- Will there be a way to donate online? (Hint: Yes)

6. Share an Inspiring Presentation

The presentation should be succinct but compelling and engaging. You can share a Little Pink video, slide show or any combination of these. You should plan on sharing your Little Pink story to personalize it for all of your attendees.

7. Make a Compelling Ask

The “Ask” will follow the presentation. The Ask can be done by the host, or by someone who is introduced by the host. (Do not wait until the night of the event to decide who is asking!) If you have set a fundraising goal for the evening, now is a great time to share this goal and let the guests know how much of a contribution it would take from each of them to be able to meet that goal.

8. Follow Up

Be sure to thank your guests as they are leaving and also send thank-you notes within a week or two. You may also want a follow-up plan for people who expressed interest in attending but had a conflict the night of your event.

WHAT WE DO

We provide FREE week-long vacations for breast cancer patients and their families. A cancer diagnosis affects not only the patient but the entire family. Every retreat is designed to help families relax, reconnect and rejuvenate during the cancer journey.

GEOGRAPHIC AREA AND WHO WE SERVE

Little Pink provides week-long vacation retreats in NC, AL, MD, SC, FL, AZ, CA, TX, MI, GA, and the US Virgin Islands and Costa Rica for breast cancer patients and their families. Little Pink extends services for breast cancer survivors and their families through all stages of cancer treatment from diagnosis to end of life.

Since its inception, the organization has served over 2,000 individuals and over 850 families through its signature retreat model.

When a patient is in treatment for breast cancer, it affects the entire family. Roles change. Relationships are strained. Finances drained. Those stressors change the entire dynamic for many families and it is in that space that Little Pink Houses of Hope steps in- to empower, encourage, and care for breast cancer families in need. The free week-long retreats that we offer are not just a vacation with a dollar value- they change lives!

We have seen couples on the verge of divorce find ways to communicate and see each other again for the first time. On a Little Pink retreat, children who feel awkward having a parent who is bald or sick, instantly connect with other children and what once felt isolating, is somehow made to seem normal. The changes don't just take place during the retreat; we have witnessed entire families that connect with each other and become part of their immediate support network for years after their retreat experience. The most common phrase that we hear about our programming is that "We came as strangers. We are leaving as a family".

We are not curing cancer. We are empowering cancer patients to live a full life! We are uniquely blessed to walk alongside them on their journey and take that responsibility very seriously.

Little Pink Houses of Hope remains an organization without precedent or parallel. Those who have partnered with and supported us have made Little Pink Houses of Hope the best of the best when it comes to serving breast cancer survivors and their families. We sincerely hope that you will join the Little Pink family!
